If a group of men, in which Zaid was not included, were to help me, I would not have been successful.

If a group of men, in which Zaid was included, were to help me, I would have been successful.

If any group of men/man, which is not Zaid, were to help me, I would not have been successful.

Only Zaid can help me succeed.

No one apart from Zaid can help me succeed No implication of adding Zaid to the group.
